Employment of [REDACTED]

25X1A9a

Although we recognize that there is ordinarily considerable objection to putting in process a person of advanced age, we wish to do so in the case of [REDACTED] for the following reasons:

25X1A9a

1. [REDACTED] has a working knowledge of the Russian language.

2. She has considerable research experience, much of it in a line of work closely related to our own.

25X1A9a

3. [REDACTED] is being hired for a particular position in the Chemicals Branch of the Materials Division, for which her aptitude, temperament, training, and experience seem to make her particularly well suited.

25X1A9a

4. [REDACTED] is an extremely mentally alert individual. She has stated that she has no intention of retiring until she reaches compulsory retirement age, in spite of her 28 years of Government service.
